BIG CROWD AT LICENSE COURT

York Springs Application First to be Argued. Objection Entered to Petition at Abbottstown. Testimony.

Every seat was taken and many persons were standing in the aisles at the first session of the annual license court this morning, interest having been aroused in every section of the county over the filing of remonstrances against the granting of licenses in Gettysburg, York Springs, and Littlestown.

Judge McPherson and his associates received all the petitions for license against which no remonstrances had been filed and at the afternoon session announced that all such licenses were granted with the exception of the one at the Gettysburg Springs Hotel.

This license was granted last year and issued to John Robertson but never lifted. Application was made this year by A. H. B. Ring and it was stated that the reason for desiring license was the proposed development of the property as a big resort hotel. The application was continued pending developments, the Court stating that he saw no reason for immediate action.

Objection was made to the petition of Charles Altland, of Abbottstown, for the reason that the names of the bondsmen are not the same as those mentioned in the petition. The license was granted this afternoon subject to a rule to show cause why it should not be revoked.

In granting the licenses Judge McPherson stated that all those given were under the provisions of the Brooks License Law and that all the men receiving such license were subject to having them revoked if infractions of that law were discovered. He urged all to acquaint themselves thoroughly with the provisions of the law and warned against all violations. He laid particular stress on the provision covering the sale of liquor to men of known intemperate habits.

The first of the applications, against which remonstrances had been filed, to be taken up was that of Irvin E. Weaver for the Central Hotel, York Springs, owned by C. T. Lerew. This hotel lost its license last year through a technicality.

J. Donald Swope Esq, representing the petitioner, called C. T. Lerew as the first witness and ex-Associate Judge G. H. Trostel as the second. Both expressed doubt about the necessity of two licensed places in York Springs but said there was necessity for one. John D. Keith Esq. and Charles E. Stahl Esq., representing the remonstrants, put both witnesses through a rather vigorous cross examination. This occupied the morning session.

Included in the large audience in the court room were many persons from the upper end of the county, prominent in temperance activities. Women from town were also present and proved to be interested spectators, while the large number of witnesses subpoenaed to support the petitioners and remonstrants in the case of the Hotel Washington and Hartzell Cafe here, helped to increase the crowd. In addition there was the usual number of persons who never miss a session of court.

TO PUBLISH NAMES

Seek Extra Liquor Licenses in Cumberland County.

Wet and dry forces in Cumberland county are lining up for a struggle January 31 at License Court. Twenty-nine persons have applied for license. This is two more than last year, efforts being made to re-open the Big Spring Hotel, in Newville, and to secure a license for the Doubling Gap Springs Hotel, a noted summer resort, which has been without license for some years.

No-license advocates are said to be planning to have remonstrances entered against every hotel and wholesale stand and this move is being fostered by revivals held in various sections. W. C. T. U. organizations will publish the names of signers to applications.

MURRAY E. LONG TAKEN BY DEATH

Relapse Follows Improvement in his Condition and Death Follows. Mrs. Noel Dies after Fall. The Funerals.

Murray E. Long died at 4:35 o'clock this morning after an illness of ten days aged 39 years, 10 months, and 12 days.

He was taken ill with appendicitis last week and on Sunday morning an operation was performed which was regarded as successful. The patient continued to improve but at four o'clock this morning he suffered a relapse, the immediate cause of his death being a blood clot which formed on the brain.

Mr. Long was born in Snyder County, this state, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Long. The family moved to Gettysburg 20 years ago where the father established the Gettysburg Steam Laundry which later passed into the hands of his son, who conducted it for eight years. Following the latter's retirement from this business he went to Carlisle where he conducted a newsstand, later returning to Gettysburg to engage in the automobile business. At the time of his death and for several years preceding he was proprietor of the Crescent Garage on York street.

He was a member of the College Lutheran church and of the following orders: Gettysburg Lodge of Elks, Gettysburg Aerie of Eagles, Washington Camp 414 Patriotic Order Sons of America, Battlefield Council 717 Order of Independent Americans.

In 1904 he married Miss Bessie G. Musselman, of Fairfield, a daughter of the late Henry Musselman. She survives together with his father, R. R. Long, of Lewistown; one sister, and one brother, Mrs. C. Ray Rupp, of Gettysburg; and Roy Long, of Lewistown. He also leaves two adopted daughters, Elsie and Emily Long.

Funeral Monday afternoon at 1:30 from his late home conducted by Dr. A. E. Wagner, assisted by Rev. J. D. Baker. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

MRS. LUCINDA NOEL

Mrs. Lucinda Noel, widow of Dr. A. Noel, died at her home in Bonneauville Thursday morning from the effects of a fall early in December when she tripped on a rug and broke her leg. She was aged 83 years, 1 month, and 23 days.

Mrs. Noel was born in Union township, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Landis. In 1851 she was married to Morgan H. Swope, who died in 1865. Her marriage to Dr. A. Noel took place four years later.

She leaves three children by the first marriage, Wellington Swope, Gettysburg; Landis Swope, Bonneauville, and Frank Swope, who lives in the West. Six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also survive. She leaves one brother, John Landis, Brook, Indiana.

Funeral at the house Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. W. R. Glen, pastor of the Salem United Brethren church, of which she was a member, officiating. Interment at Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown.

MRS. WM. STUDEBAKER

Mrs. Elizabeth Studenaker, wife of William Studenaker, of near Rock Chapel, was found dead in bed about 2:30 Thursday morning. Death was due to heart trouble with which she had suffered for some time. She was aged 79 years, 10 months and 6 days.

Mrs. Studenaker leaves her husband and two sons, Harry D. Studenaker and John Studenaker, both at home; one sister, Miss Mary McIntire, of New Chester, and two brothers, Peter McIntire, of York Springs, and John McIntire, of New Chester.

Funeral will be held Sunday morning, meeting at the house at 9:30 o'clock. Services and interment at Rock Chapel.

HARRY CHRISMER

Harry Chrismer, a former resident of Bonneauville, died at his home in Ashland Wednesday from pneumonia. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chrismer and left this county about twenty years ago.

He leaves his wife and two sons, John and Harry Chrismer, both of Cresson; also the following brothers and sisters: William Chrismer and Joseph Chrismer, Bonneauville; Edward

ARREST COUNTY ELOPERS IN CITY

Youth and Maiden Fooled Baltimore Police with Fake Story but are Finally Found out. Intended to Marry.

Eugene Stump, 17 years old, and Claudine Melhorn, 16 year old daughter of Mrs. Annie Melhorn, McSherrytown, after eloping to Baltimore on last Tuesday to get married were placed under arrest in that city Thursday. They at first told the police a story that they had lost their money, that Stump was destitute and that the girl was his stepister and dependent on him for support.

The pair related a touching tale of privation and suffering when they appeared at the Northern police station, Baltimore, on Tuesday, on the strength of which the police treated them to a banquet and began telegraphing to York, where Stump said he had an older brother, to have him take them under his care. As far as can be learned the brother has not been located.

Mrs. Melhorn, who is housekeeping for Frank Sponseller on Main street, McSherrytown, when shown the account of the two children seeking work in Baltimore, and being unsuccessful appealing to the police, expressed her belief that they had gone there to get married.

Through Chief of Police Smeach, of Hanover, she got in touch with the York police in an effort to have the children brought home, it having been erroneously stated in a dispatch from Baltimore that they had been sent to the alleged brother in York. Young Stump made his residence with Bert Hamm, on the opposite side of the street from the Sponsellers.

The couple, when questioned on Thursday, by Captain Hurley, of the Baltimore police, admitted that their story of destitution, search for work, and hunger, told the night before, was not true and that they had gone to Baltimore in the hope of being married. The police held the pair while the federated charities endeavored to gain the consent of the parents to the marriage, it is stated in a Baltimore dispatch. Later they were charged with being minors without proper care and are now held on that charge.

The girl, on account of her age, is in charge of the juvenile court until the federated charities get in touch with her people. The boy will be given a hearing at the Northern police station, Baltimore.

LANDSLIDE

Block Signal System Warns of Danger on Western Maryland.

Near Little Orleans, on the Western Maryland Railway, a large landslide occurred Wednesday night, which completely blocked traffic there. The slide is reported as 100 feet long and 40 feet deep. Two steam shovels were placed at work upon the slide, one at either end. The newly installed electric block system gave the first warning of the slide. Trains were detoured around the slide over the Baltimore and Ohio tracks.

SPECIAL MEETING

Funeral Saturday in Centralia.

MRS. JOHN ADAIR

Mrs. John Adair, mother of William Adair, of Gettysburg, died at her home in Chambersburg, Wednesday, aged 56 years.

Funeral Saturday in Chambersburg.

MORE MEASURES FROM LAFEAN

Would Establish Half Holiday for Government Employees. Also Concerned in Distribution of Report.

A bill providing a Saturday half-holiday for all persons in government employ in manufacturing establishments, arsenals or navy yards, river, harbor or fortification work, or in the reclamation service, has been introduced before the house of representatives at Washington by Congressman D. F. Lafean.

The bill provides that full pay be allowed for this period. In cases in which the employees work at night, it is provided, the department having control of the work shall allow each Saturday a period of four hours' rest with pay. The bill stipulates that this provision apply to all work for the government whether by the government itself or on contracts.

Congressman Lafean has notified the York Federation of Trades Unions that a resolution has been brought before congress for the public printing and distribution of 100,000 copies of the industrial relations committee's report. The York federation has decided to petition congress for the printing and distribution of 200,000 copies of this report.

Congressman Beales has introduced a bill to correct the military record of Jeremiah Stover.

HOME ENTERED

While Owners are in Gettysburg House is Ransacked.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Ziegler received word on Thursday that their home in Bloomington, Illinois, had been entered by thieves some time Tuesday night and ransacked, things being thrown about in great confusion. The caretaker, who made the discovery, was unable to tell whether or not anything had been stolen. Mrs. Ziegler and her father, W. S. Schroeder, left for Bloomington to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ziegler had brought with them, when they came to Gettysburg in December, all of their silverware, but much fine cut glass, linens, and other things of value were left in the house. The thieves gained entrance through a basement window and were not detected, the home being located in the suburbs and some distance from the nearest residence.

ANNUAL BANQUET

Beneficial Society Enjoys Well Prepared Supper and Speeches Afterward.

One hundred members and friends of St. Francis Xavier Beneficial Society attended the annual banquet in Xavier Hall Thursday evening. Rev. Fr. Boyle was toastmaster and called upon the following, Allen Kane, LeRoy Kane, Paul Kebil, William Codori, Dennis Twomey, and Robert Eckenrode.

The committee were Dennis M. Twomey, Edward Sanders, Nicholas Redding, and Cletus Sanders. The banquet was prepared by wives of the members and served by twelve young ladies of the Sodality.

DOUBLE WEDDING

Two Couples Married in Taneytown Church at One Time.

Miss Edith M. Althoff, and Charles W. Randall, of Littlestown, and Miss Mary Althoff and James Walsh, of Westminster, were married Tuesday morning in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Taneytown, by Rev. Fr. Cuddy. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Althoff, of Taneytown.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Permit to Wed is Issued by Clerk of the Courts.

Samuel Caslow, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Caslow, Mt. Pleasant township, and Miss Helen May McGuigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McGuigan, Mt. Pleasant township, were granted a marriage license on Thursday by Clerk of the Courts Sheely.

FOR MORE EARLY SALES THIS YEAR

Farmers Generally Seem to Prefer February and the Fore Part of March. Some Holding Back for Later Dates.

Early spring sales promise to attract the farmers of Adams County more than ever before, it is stated by auctioneers, clerks, and others who follow the annual round of sales from year to year. February has an unusually long list while the early part of March will have from six to eight sales on some days.

Various reasons are assigned. The one most generally advanced is that farmers do not wish to have the feeding of stock for a longer period in the winter than is absolutely necessary, and they are glad for a chance to sell at an early date to relieve themselves of this extra expense. Others believe that by having sale early they have a larger crowd of buyers who had not had a chance to fill their wants at other sales.

Against these arguments the farmers holding late sales declare that the fact that the buyer will not have a long winter period in which to feed the stock he purchases induces prices that are higher and more than balance the outlay the selling farmer had to make in caring for the stock. Again these people having late sales declare that many farmers always go the rounds before finally making up their minds to buy, and that nothing is lost by selecting a date late in March.

But early or late, there are scattered throughout February and March several hundred sales. As in past years the progressive farmer, no matter in what section of the county he may live, is recognizing the value of advertising his sale judiciously and to best advantage. The Gettysburg Times and its weekly edition, Adams County News, are again the most sought papers and will keep all informed of the sale news and advertising throughout the coming weeks.

CARRIER EXAMINATION

To Fill Position from the Virginia Mills Office.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Adams County to be held at Gettysburg and Hanover on February 26, to fill the position of rural carrier at Virginia Mills and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in Adams County. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements. Application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

INTEREST INCREASES

Results Apparent at Services in Methodist Church

The revival in the Methodist church is gaining in interest and widening in influence. The congregational singing last evening led by a big chorus was inspiring. A mind disturbing appeal brought two to the altar and two requests for prayer. The subject for this evening's service is "A Rich Man Converted."

BASE BALL MEETING

The directors and contributors to the support of last year's base ball team will meet at Hotel Gettysburg at 7:30 this evening.

AMERICANS GET BANDIT LEADER

Gen. Rodriguez Said to Be a Prisoner in Mexico.

WILL HUNT DOWN SLAYERS

Captors of Bandits Are in Straits and Calling for Aid—Forty Men Taken With Him Shot.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 14.—General Jose Rodriguez, whose name has been mentioned as one of the Villa leaders concerned in the assassinations of American citizens in northern Chihuahua during the last week, has been captured by Americans at Madera, Mexico, after a fight, according to a report.

Rodriguez is credited with having issued a proclamation recently saying he would kill every American who fell into his hands. A message from Madera says that before the capture, a number of Rodriguez's men were killed. It also says that the Americans are hard pressed, and that they are in need of aid.

The capture was made by Maximiliano Marquez, it was said. He is an employee of the Hearst interests at Babrickora, and is now at Madera, keeping order, with about 125 Americans and a few soldiers. The message said Rodriguez was met in a pitched battle, defeated, and his men scattered, captured and killed.

The Americans heard Rodriguez and his men were burning bridges below Madera. They called upon officials in Chihuahua, asking that troops be rushed to them. Without waiting for aid, Marquez attacked.

Forty men, among whom are some who are believed to have taken part in the murder of Americans, are reported captured with Rodriguez. It is said they were shot as bandits.

Rodriguez was charged in first reports with responsibility for the killing of sixteen Americans and three other persons at San Ysabel, Monday. Reports of Mexicans on the train, however, say General Reyna, Colonel Pablo Lopez and General Beltran led the bandits.

The message from Madera came close upon the heels of a report that ten American men and two English women had been killed at Madera, which is sixty miles west of San Ysabel, Chihuahua, where sixteen Americans and three other persons were killed by Villa bandits, Monday. One of the women is said to be the wife of Captain Lettbridge, a retired British army officer, who, with a companion, a Mrs. Berry, had been staying at Babrickora ranch, a William Kaufmann property.

The report seemingly is discredited, however, as the telegraph operator at Madera has wired that no Americans were killed at that place.

A rumor is being circulated to the effect that three Americans were murdered in the Cananea district of Sonora, near the Phelps-Dodge property, but this is also without confirmation. It has been definitely established that Bart Kramer, son of an American ranchman, was killed sixty miles west of San Ysabel.

Feeling is running high on the border. A plan to organize a regiment of American mining men to enter Mexico and run down the bandits, was formulated. It was decided to present the plan to officials of the de facto government of Mexico for its sanction. A large number of Americans, it was stated, are ready to join the force, and foreign mining corporations have offered to supply the necessary arms and ammunition.

KAISER'S SISTER CALLED

Queen of Greece Summoned to Emperor's Bedside.

London, Jan. 14.—A wireless despatch from Rome says that Queen Sophia of Greece has been summoned to the bedside of her brother, Emperor or William, whose illness is described as serious. The queen, the message says, is to depart at once for Berlin.

Crown Prince Recalled.

Rome, Jan. 14.—Advices from Switzerland report the hurried recall of the German crown prince and of Prince von Buelow, former imperial chancellor, to Berlin, because of the critical condition of the kaiser. These advices it has been impossible to confirm.

It is stated that the reports of the crown prince's recall came directly from Berlin, and that there is a probability of his assuming the regency during the kaiser's illness.

Explosion in Powder Plant.

South Windham, Me., Jan. 14.—The press house of the Dupont powder mills, at Newhall, near here, was damaged by an explosion which occurred after the night force had left and before the day workers arrived. The superintendent expressed the belief that the explosion was due to spontaneous combustion. No one was injured.

Air Raiders Fire Monastir.

Milan, Jan. 14.—The Gazette Popolo received a despatch stating that French aviators had bombarded the town of Monastir, setting the town in flames.

GENERAL HUERTA

Former Mexican Dictator Who Died at El Paso, Texas.

GEN. HUERTA IS DEAD

Mexican Dictator Succumbs at El Paso, Texas.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 14.—General Victoriano Huerta, former dictator and provisional president of Mexico, died last evening.

His death had been momentarily expected since Wednesday.

His will was signed following the administration of the Catholic rites. He asked his lawyer to say that he had forgiven his enemies.

General Robles, his private secretary, issued the following: "In the actual moment of gravity in General Huerta's condition, I only wish to state regarding the unjust and cruel treatment given to him by the United States government that the treatment is responsible for his present condition. When he was president of Mexico he gave all guarantees to Americans, regardless of the difficulties he had met with in his administration. In this country he was thrown in jail like a common criminal and his health completely broken down, causing his death."

BIG RUSSIAN GAIN IN BUKOWINA DRIVE

Sadagura, Near Czernowitz, Reported Captured.

London, Jan. 14.—Report from the eastern front of the capture of Sadagura is regarded in military circles as probably true, although official announcement on the subject has not been received.

The town, which lies a few miles northeast of Czernowitz, and is a converging point for five good roads, is of considerable strategic importance, and previous attempts to capture it have been stoutly resisted. Experts say Sadagura is really of more importance than Czernowitz, on account of its stronger natural position and facilities for communication purposes.

A Budapest telegram says that the snow-covered ground on the Bessarabian frontier is covered with thousands of corpses which could not be buried because of the frozen condition of the ground. Many bodies have been burned.

The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs:

"It is reported that 10,000 Austrian prisoners have been taken in the recent battle in the Bukovina and on the Stripa. Besides, a great number of killed were abandoned on the battlefield."

"Austrian and German wounded and prisoners say the Russian artillery caused losses aggregating 70,000 to the armies of Generals von Pflanzer and von Bothmer."

ATTACK GERMANS IN WEST

Berlin Says Allies' Offensive in France Was Repulsed.

London, Jan. 14.—A strong British attack near Arras, northern France, and two French onslaughts in the Champagne, were repulsed by the Germans, the Berlin war office announced.

The German offensive in Champagne, which reached its culmination Sunday, is insistently reported from French headquarters as having been undertaken on an important scale and with a definite military purpose. The failure is declared to have been complete, and the strong German forces which were employed suffered terrible losses.

The battle is described as the bloodiest encounter on the Western front since the allied offensive of September. Unofficial despatches place the German losses at 25,000 men.

Remembers Dog in Will.

Norristown, Pa., Jan. 14.—In the will of Margaret Gordon, of Upper Gwynedd, probated, provision is made that her dog be "decently killed and buried." It is also provided that the mourners at her funeral be fed at a hotel at the expense of her estate.

CRISIS OVER MEXICAN AFFAIR

Texan Says Our Patience is Exhausted.

LANSING HINTS AT FORCE

Secretary of State Says if Proper Steps Are Not Taken to Protect Americans an Issue With U. S. Will Arise.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The crisis over Mexican relations caused by the latest butchery of American citizens below the border drew a scathing denunciation of conditions in Mexico from a Democratic member of congress from Texas, Slayden, who told the house the patience of Texans has been exhausted, and from the secretary of state another warning to Americans in Mexico to leave any districts where "there is revolutionary any trouble."

Secretary Lansing said that so far the steps taken by the Carranza government on the American representations appeared to be satisfactory. He added the United States would expect evidence of punishment of the bandits who killed the Americans near Chihuahua and that the evidence would depend upon the circumstances.

Secretary Lansing said that if proper and final steps were not taken an issue might arise between the United States and the Carranza government.

His last assertion was regarded as significant of the determination of the United States to enforce protection for its citizens in Mexico.

Lansing added that the question of responsibility for the killing still was undetermined and that the state department recognized a certain analogy between the situation in Mexico and the situation in the west during the early history of the United States. Carranza authorities, however, he said, should have warned the Americans away from a region they knew to be dangerous.

When congress met the Mexican situation came up again. Senator Lewis Democrat, introduced a resolution to authorize the president to employ the army and navy in Mexico in the same manner as they are now utilized to preserve peace and order in Nicaragua and Hayti. The senator asked that the resolution lie on the table for the present.

In the house, Slayden declared the time had come for a Pan-American union to bring peace to Mexico, and insisted that only the execution of the slayers of the sixteen Americans recently killed near Santa Ysabel would satisfy the people of the border states.

Eliseo Arrandondo, General Carranza's ambassador, called at the state department and personally informed Secretary Lansing that troops had been despatched in pursuit of the bandits who murdered the Americans with orders to capture or kill every member of the band. He said, if necessary, every soldier of the de facto government in the northern states would be pressed into service for this purpose. Later Arrandondo said the dead Americans had been warned to keep out of the guerrilla warfare territory, although General Obregon had given them permission at their request to pass through his lines.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA STRIKES

Assert Reports Were Marked According to Musical Ability.

Woodbury, N. J., Jan. 14.—For two mornings the High school has been without orchestral music, because of a strike among the boy and girl musicians.

This was brought about, according to some of the players, because their reports were not marked as they believed they deserved.

Because of this low average, some of the pupils have been suspended for a few days, which has raised some thing of a disturbance among the parents. It is said that because of the musical ability of some of the pupils they have been given "points," providing they would play in the orchestra.

Publishers Ask Wilson to Dinner.

Washington, Jan. 14.—President Wilson has taken under advisement an invitation extended to him by President Bridgman, of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, to attend the annual banquet of the association in New York, April 27.

Slays Four With Ax; Takes Poison.

Bethel, Conn., Jan. 14.—William Arthur Steele, colored, killed his wife and his two stepdaughters and his brother-in-law, Littleton Riley, with an ax, and then committed suicide by drinking poison. Steele is said to have been jealous of his wife.

Hangs Himself From Tree.

NEW LINER HURONIAN STRUCK BY TORPEDO

Was Attacked December 29 Near Irish Coast.

New York, Jan. 14.—The New Leyland line steamship Huronian, from Galveston, was torpedoed December 29, off the Irish coast, according to reports in shipping circles.

The International Mercantile Marine said a cablegram had been received that the Huronian had met with injury and had been towed into port, but the message did not say what had caused the damage.

The Huronian carried a cargo consisting chiefly of cotton, corn and wheat valued at over $1,000,000, according to her published manifests.

The Huronian sailed from Galveston bound for Liverpool on December 12. She was reported to have encountered a submarine not far from the spot where the Lusitania and Arabic were sunk.

The Huronian was built only last year in Glasgow, for freight service. She was 475 feet long and 58 feet beam, with a tonnage of 5634. She was not assigned to trans-Atlantic service.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Ellen C. Heiges who died this day one year ago January 14, 1915, aged 65 years, and Hiram F. Heiges, who died August 17th, 1913, aged 67 years. Call not back the dear departed.

Anchored safe where storms are o'er On the border land we left them, Soon to meet and part no more.

When we leave this world of changes, When we leave this world of care, We shall find our missing loved ones

In our Father's mansion fair, Earth has lost its look of gladness,

Heaven seems to us more bright, Since the spirits of our dear ones

Took their happy, homeward flight, And we long to cross that river,

Long to rest upon that shore, There to see, and know, and love them

With the Savior, evermore.

GOOD ROADS AND PREPAREDNESS

State and Government Aid Advocated For Highways.

THE NATION'S ARTERIES.

A. G. Batchelder Says That the Country Must Have a Maximum Opportunity For the Maximum Transport of Men and Munitions by Means of the Motorcar and Roads.

Roads of America may mean the very existence of the nation, according to A. G. Batchelder, chairman of the executive board of the American Automobile association. Roads that go somewhere, arteries of communication that bind the nations together, roads serving to the fullest extent commercial and social and possibly military needs—these are the highways now demanded and obtainable by that logical federal co-operation with the several states which has been accentuated by the facts set concisely forth in the stupendous European conflict, according to Mr. Batchelder. The chairman points to the fact that in exactly the same manner as it became necessary that the states should help their country unite in the construction of comprehensive road systems it is now essential that the national government shall lend aid to its state parts in the early realization of a road plan that will in the greatest degree weld together coast and coast and lakes and gulfs.

Mr. Batchelder says that the country must have a maximum opportunity for the maximum transport of men and munitions, and the motorcar and the roads are the means for its accomplishment. Thirty thousand miles of road would gridiron the entire United States with interconnecting and interlocking highways and would embrace every state in the Union, giving each one a big main artery for highway travel, according to Batchelder, who believes that four direct east and west roads from the Atlantic to the Pacific, with one "Y" from the great lakes to the Pacific coast along the northern border, five north and south roads—border to border—and three prominent diagonals for important interconnections would be included in this total mileage. At $10,000 per mile Mr. Batchelder estimates that this would mean a road requirement of $300,000,000. This $10,000 per mile is based on an average of extremes from low cost because of topography and nearby material to high cost per mile because of contra-conditions, and the figures also include bridges and culverts. At the present population and the normal increase during the period of ten years this would mean an equated payment of 31 cents per inhabitant per year. Mr. Batchelder points to the fact that a state which does not provide interstate road connection with adjoining states is plainly at a disadvantage and says that a road brings commonwealth value for the expenditure and is available to those living in the territory traversed, as well as those who come from a distance. He believes that the commonwealth should build arteries of communication and meet the wants of the largest number of people just as it is done by the railroads.

Congress and Road Building.
At a meeting of its executive board the American Automobile association went on record as favoring federal aid in a good roads measure which has been drafted by the executive committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials. Briefly, the bill provides for national and state co-operation on whatever roads may be mutually decided upon, with the state matching every federal dollar it receives on the basis of its area, population and road mileage in proportion to the total for the whole country.

It seems to be generally recognized that any bill which the congress of the United States will pass is likely to include a requisite that a state shall first establish a highway department in order to have a centralized direction in construction and maintenance of roads. Just six of the forty-eight states have yet to establish highway departments. Georgia, South Carolina, Mississippi, Nebraska, Indiana and Texas are the six states which have yet to recognize the need of a state highway department.

Cost of Hauling Contrasted.
In 1908 France expended $900,000,000 on her roads, the best in Europe, about $15.38 per capita.

It costs 7 cents a ton per mile to haul tonnage upon her public roads, an average of 25 cents per ton per mile in the United States, 18 cents per ton per mile more than in France. Over 2,000,000,000 tons in this country are hauled seven miles average upon the road. Thus average haul upon the public road before it reaches rail or water transportation costs $1.26 per ton more for seven miles than it would cost in France, a loss we pay in haulage of freight for the privilege of having bad roads of $22,500,000,000 a year. The French average, $15.38 per capita, on our 100,000,000 of population would be $1,538,000,000.

LIVE STOCK HUSBANDRY

KEEP THE TESTED SIRE.

Bulls of Proved Worth Should Be Retained in Service.

The following advice, which is applicable to other breeds of cattle as well as to Shorthorns, comes from the Shorthorn Breeders' association:

"Many inexperienced breeders make the mistake of going it blindly from year to year in their use of herd bulls. They keep eternally changing, using one a couple of years and then super-sending him with a calf. On the other hand, the constructive breeders rely mainly on tested sires, mostly quite a bit of age. Indeed, such breeders have been known to buy entire herds, which they did not want, merely to acquire the old bulls at their heads. A Shorthorn bull that has proved satisfactory as a getter should be kept in service until death or impotence ends his usefulness. When fully matured bulls often get hard to do with and too often for this reason are banded into the cars and shipped to the slaughter. A big loss is sustained each year by such unnecessary and uncalled for sacrifices. The wise breeder goes mighty slow with the use of any untried calf until he knows what the youngster can do.

"New bulls must be introduced into every herd, but there is never any occasion to make the change suddenly, dropping one outright and using another to all the breeding females. A very little ingenuity will enable the breeder to discover what the chosen one is going to do. It doesn't make much difference in what herd a bull succeeds. Every good getter should be allowed to live out his allotted span of life begetting calves after his kind. The wise breeder has always in use a bull on which he can rely for transmission of true Shorthorn character, conformation, weight, substance and flesh. He never goes it blind in his choice of bulls."

SELF FEEDING SWINE.

Practical Method of Growing Gilts Practiced at Iowa State College.

The value of self feeding methods for growing and fattening swine in the dry lot and on forage has been proved. Their use for breeding gilts has been seriously questioned by many, says Professor W. H. Pew, Iowa State college.

The college herd of pure bred swine, maintained for instructional purposes, is composed of representatives of the Poland China, Duro-Jersey, Chester White, Hampshire and Berkshire breeds. After the pigs were weaned

The Poland China hog originated in Ohio in 1872, and the breed is still a favorite in the corn belt. Poland Chinas are good rustlers, do not require pampering and produce a big percentage of high grade lard and edible meat. They are of moderate bone, and the hams and shoulders are large and well fleshed. The animal shown is a Poland China sow.

In the spring it was determined that the gilts would be fed on self feeders as soon after weaning as possible.

Accordingly about the middle of June forty-eight gilts in one feed lot with rape pasture, about evenly divided as to the above named breeds, were started according to the self feeding plan. Shorts in one feeder, tankage in another and oatmeal in still another were supplied. Salt was supplied ad libitum also. Shelled corn was fed by hand twice per day. In other words, the corn was limited. It was intended to keep the gilts thrifty, but not too fat.

About the 1st of October new corn mostly soft, was fed instead of old corn. On Oct. 15 these gilts were sorted, making two bunches, one of twenty-one to be kept for the breeding herd of the college, and the second bunch of twenty-seven were intended for sale purposes. The entire bunch on Oct. 25 averaged in weight 180 pounds. The bunch of twenty-one kept for the college herd averaged in weight 210. All have been fed the same since division was made. These gilts are thrifty, grow and not too fat. To date the methods employed have been satisfactory.

Pneumonia of Calves.

In winter calves frequently die of pneumonia, caused by chilling. Keep them in a dry place free from cold drafts to prevent it. Where calves are kept in close, poorly ventilated stables see that doors are not opened permitting drafts of very cold air to blow directly on them. This is probably the most common cause. The following treatment is recommended. Keep the animal warm and dry, and it will well to keep it blanketed. Feed only fresh warm milk frequently and in small quantities. It should be fed carefully to prevent strangling. Liniments or mustard plasters may be used over the chest. Recovery is usually slow. If the calf is valuable call a veterinarian.—Ohio Experiment Station Bulletin.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

THE FISH COURSE.

FISH BAKED WITH CLAMS.
Use large or small fish, cod or haddock, according to size of family—a three pound fish for a family of four. Open fish to back, leaving back whole; spread one-half with raw clams, either a pint or a quart, just as you wish; lay the other half over and tie with several strips of cotton cloth; make four or five little slits in top and press in thin slices of fat salt pork and sprinkle a little flour over all. Bake an hour and serve with melted butter.

Finnan Haddie.—Cut half a green pepper in fine, short shreds. Add one tablespoonful of finely chopped onion and cook in three tablespoonfuls of butter until softened and slightly yellowed. Add three tablespoonfuls of flour and one and one-fourth teaspoonful each of salt and paprika. Stir until blended with the butter. Add one cupful of cream and one-half cupful of milk. Stir until boiling; then add one pint of cooked finnan haddie and let stand over boiling water till hot.

Boiled Cod.—Clean and prepare fish tie in piece of cheesecloth and plunge into boiling water. Cook twenty minutes to pound. Be sure that it boils continuously; lift to large hot plate to drain; let stand for four minutes in a hot place; take from cloth, dish on hot platter, pour sauce over fish and serve.

Egg Sauce.—A cupful of milk, one half cupful of fish liquor, three teaspoonfuls of butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, seasoning and hard boiled egg. Blend butter and flour, add milk and broth, cook five minutes, add seasoning and cut egg in thin slices, lay on top of fish, pour over the dressing, garnish with parsley. Egg may be chopped instead of sliced for sauce.

Baked Finnan Haddie.—Place fish on waxed paper in baking pan and bake in moderate oven fifteen to twenty minutes or until well heated. Remove backbone and season with little butter. It is very delicate and easy to prepare. The waxed paper prevents sticking.

Creamed Finnan Haddie.—Cut fish into serving portions and place in baking pan on top of stove, nearly cover with water and boil gently until bones can be removed. Drain and pour milk (heated), in which put butter and pepper, over fish and serve.

Wanted to Be Truthful.

On one occasion Hall Caine met a fellow writer who had to confess that he had never read any of his books. It was during one of Mr. Caine's visits to the United States, when at a banquet given in his honor Thomas Nelson Page had been asked to introduce the guest of the evening. Just before the toast began one of the diners passed his menu card round the table, with the request that Mr. Caine would sign his autograph upon it as a memento of the occasion.

"Good idea," said Nelson Page. "I'll send my card along also. I've got to introduce Hall Caine in a few minutes, and I want to be able to say that I have read something by 'C'—written."

IT'S BARON ASTOR OF HEVER.

New Peer Takes Title From Anne Boleyn's Castle.

William Waldorf Astor, who has been raised to the peerage by King George, will take the title of Baron Astor of Hever castle.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford probably will be Baron Beresford of Metemeh and Curraghmore.

Hever castle is an ancient mansion in Kent, rebuilt by the great-grandfather of Anne Boleyn, where Anne Boleyn was visited by Henry VIII, before their marriage. It is said to be one of the finest examples of Tudor architecture in England. Baron Astor spent some $100,000 on the estate including the expenditure for the version of the river which, according to tradition, made the castle so damp that Henry VIII contracted rheumatism there.

Metemeh is the scene of one of Admiral Lord Beresford's early exploits in Egypt, while Curraghmore is the family home of the Marquis of Waterford, the head of the Beresford family.

GIRL'S ANKLES SAVE TWO

Boys Hauled to Safety After Breaking Through Ice.

Miss Rose Krauss, eighteen, of New York rescued two boys from drowning in one of the ponds at Van Cortlandt park.

Clarence Carpenter, twelve, and his brother John, ten, Yonkers, had been forbidden to go on the ice. But John decided to try the ice on a pond known as the Swamp, which is near the subway terminal. He dropped off a bridge that spans the pond. The ice broke and he went into the water. Clarence dropped on the ice to rescue his brother, and he, too, went through.

Miss Krauss saw the accident. She climbed over the railing of the bridge, lowered herself until her feet almost touched the ice and then shouted to the boys to "catch hold." With the two boys holding on to her ankles Miss Krauss pulled them to safety.

How Soldiers Keep Strong

Preparedness against sickness is the big, important thing to fighting soldiers. A sick soldier cannot work with vigor any more than you can work with energy when you are weak, tired, almost sick.

One efficient warring government is giving each soldier a vial of cod liver oil every day because far-reaching experiments show how wonderfully it increases the calories of human energy and gives them strength to prevent winter sickness. Is this not convincing proof that you need it at this season to enliven your blood to prevent sickness?

Cod liver oil is scarce and high-priced this season and many inferior grades may be offered. But remember that which guarantees pure cod liver oil—free from alcohol and drugs.

If you are subject to colds, throat or lung troubles; if you are easily tired, run-down or have thin blood, you should take Scott's Emulsion at once. If your children are backward in growth, frail or anemic, nothing will do them so much good as Scott's Emulsion, and for girls and women in home or business it is nature's great strength-builder.

Scott's is not a "secret" medicine. It is a rich blood-food and a pure tonic; it contains nothing harmful and is pleasant to take. It is prescribed by physicians and liberally used in hospitals and private schools.

TEUTON ALLIES ATTACK SALONIKA

Bombardment of Positions Reported From Rome.

CORFU OCCUPIED BY ALLIES

The Austrians Are Pushing Drive Into Montenegro and Are Shelling Anti-Wari.

London, Jan. 14.—Athens advices to Rome say that a general attack on the allies' Salonika lines, begun on Tuesday, is being developed on a large scale.

The correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia reports that a bombardment of the British lines in the Doiran zone proceeded all day Monday.

The attack, a despatch to the Daily News says, came from the Germans on the west, with Monastir as their headquarters, and from the Austrians and Bulgarians on the center along the Glevell-Doiran line, while the Turks on the east concentrated at Tsaki Gumnigina.

The reported offensive, however, lacks confirmation from other sources. The impression had prevailed that the Anglo-French positions are so far removed from the boundary that they could not be reached with German and Bulgarian guns, unless the Teutonic allies actually advanced into Greece.

French troops have occupied the Greek island of Corfu and the tricolor is hoisting over the Kaiser's villa Achilleon.

The Greek government has protested against the occupation. It is believed in Athens that the arrest of the Austrian and German consuls at Corfu is certain to follow.

The occupation by the French troops is stated to be provisional and is preparatory to the transference to Corfu of a portion of the Serbian army for the purpose of rest and refitting.

The ministers of the allied powers at Athens have handed a note to the Greek government declaring that they regard it as the clear duty of humanity to transport as soon as possible part of the Serbian army to a point near the Albanian coast.

The entente note asserts this step is taken "in order to save these heroic soldiers from famine and destruction," and that the island of Corfu has been chosen as offering the necessary facilities from the point of view of sanitation and food supply.

The powers add they do not suppose Greece will object to the proposed transfer of the Serbians, who are the allies of Greece and who will only remain a short time on the island. The note concludes:

"There is no intention at occupation, as all guarantees have been given under this head to the Greek government, both concerning Corfu and other parts of Greek territory."

Vienna reports that the Austrian offensive against the Montenegrins is successfully progressing. One column has captured the heights west and northwest of Basjak and another column has occupied Basjak, southwest of Cetinje. Measures have been taken by the government officials still remaining to evacuate Cetinje.

Austrian forces advancing from Cattaro and Budna have reached Mitchevitz, five miles from Antivari, which is being bombarded by the Austrian long-range guns, according to a despatch to L'Ouvreur under Tuesday's date. The entire Austrian fleet, including three dreadnoughts, is now concentrating in the gulf of Cattaro. Montenegro is to be evacuated by Serbian troops, it was officially announced at the Serbian legation at Rome, the troops being transferred to Corfu.

WOMEN PACIFISTS RAP PREPAREDNESS

Jane Addams Says Disarmament May Follow War.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Miss Jane Addams, speaking for the Women's Peace Party, declared to the house military committee that the campaign for national defense in America was the result of panic over what is happening in Europe.

She urged in the name of thousands of American women, she said, that this country be not stampeded into military measures which would render it ineffective when international disarmament became a possibility at the end of the war. There was no enemy against whom to prepare, she said, and no need of any urgency.

She urged that a commission be appointed to determine whether present expenditures on the army and navy were securing efficiency, and also to find out who were urging greater expenditures and why.

"Doubtless some of them are as clean handed as can be," she said. "Doubtless some are involved with self-interest."

Committeemen asked Miss Addams if she had not supported former President Roosevelt in his last campaign, and called attention to Colonel Roosevelt's recent utterances on the need of preparedness.

"He was not talking like this then," Miss Addams replied. "There was nothing of the sort in our platform. It is my sober judgment that he does not speak for any large body of people."

VERDI MAY CARRY GUNS

Government to Let Ship Sail With Cannon Mounted on Stern.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The Italian liner Giuseppe Verdi will be permitted to clear from New York with her two guns still mounted.

The state department has given its assent on assurances that the pieces are to be used only for defense, and has so notified the treasury department, which will instruct Collector of the Port Malone of New York.

The state department has not contended that it had any right to deny admission to American ports to a merchant ship armed ostensibly for defense, but announced at the outset of the war that it preferred that no armed ships of that class should come in American waters. British ships dismounted guns.

Counting The Cash

January is count-up time with the storekeepers. They take stock of things, balance the books, and try to see whether the figures are on the right side of the ledger. They like to count up results in cash rather than in goods on the shelf. Hence the tendency toward sales clearances and lower prices at this season of the year. Lessened sales figures mean the merchant is paying premium for cash. And the same desire reflected in the advertising of The Times makes it profitable to you to read it.

The great disparity of higher prices on raw cotton between now and some months ago created very strong price advances on all kinds of Cotton Fabrics since June 1915.

We had placed heavy orders for Heavy Cottons, such as MUSLINS and BED MUSLINS, SHEETS, CASES &c., LONG CLOTHS and CAMBRICS to reach near January 1st, 1916. Also MANUFACTURED MUSLIN UNDERWEAR, which ever they could be had at or near old prices.

There is no likelihood in the judgment of those close to the primary market of any lower prices on Raw Materials this year. Add to the present price of Raw Cotton the higher wages paid everywhere in Textile Mills makes us able to give assurances that our present prices, on every character of Cotton Goods now affected, cannot be duplicated again this season.

The Pity of It

By M. QUAD
Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Just an even hundred men answered "Here!" as the sergeant called the roll in the morning we awoke beside the Potomac. There was an even hundred as we marched away—as we took our first turn at picket—as we first sighted the enemy, as we went into battle for the first time. After the roar of guns had died away and the dead had been buried, only eighty-nine men answered "Here!" to the sergeant's roll call in the morning.

A few weeks went by, and we stood shoulder to shoulder in battle line again, and when the sergeant called the roll, now only seventy-eight men answered "Here!"

Then came Cold Harbor and the falling back to Malvern Hill. Cannon boomed and musketry cracked all day long and far into the night. Wounded men cursed and groaned as they limped forward with but a single cry and died with their faces hidden in the weeds and grass. After Malvern Hill the sergeant called the roll again—not the same sergeant as before, for he was lying dead in the thickets at Fair Oaks—and this time only fifty-two men answered "Here!"

And so could you wonder that when recruits came down to us we looked upon them as intruders, even though they were good men and true, and had come to help us win victories? Their names were called with ours, and we heard them answer "Here!" But they were only with us; they could not be of us. They had come too late.

And at last came Appomattox and the surrender and then peace and the return to Washington. We were at most a full company again as we turned out on the meadows of Arlington for the last roll call. Upward of seventy living men could have answered "here" to their names.

"Fall in, company G. Attention to roll call!"

It was not the sergeant who had called the roll after Fredericksburg, after Chancellorsville, after Gettysburg. It was a new man—one who had been promoted before his cheeks had scarcely been burned by the southern sun. But he had heard of the ties which bound the old veterans together—he realized what this last roll call meant to the survivors. And from the musty archives of the past he took the roll of the dead and called:

"Anson, Armstrong, Armitage." No one replied.

"Berry, Bloomingdale, Benson, Barston, Benham." No one replied.

"Cary, Carter, Catman, Cummings, Comstock." No one replied.

And so he called, and so the silence of the death roll grew deeper.

"Young, Yeomans, Yager." No one replied.

"York!"

"Here!"

And so he of all was the sole survivor, the last living man of company G, the only one who had a right to stand there in that line and answer to the last roll call. The others—ninety and nine—were crumpled at home or sleeping their last sleep on the hillside, in the valleys, in the forests and the thickets of Virginia.

The line cheered him as he stood apart, the last survivor of a glorious band which had fought in a dozen battles, but he turned his head away and wept.

Perhaps no act of war engendered more bitterness than the burning of the barns and houses in the Shenandoah valley under Sheridan's official order.

No warning was given unless the great clouds of smoke rising up here and there to signify destruction were taken as warnings of what was to come. A squad of men galloped up, the women and children were told the substance of the order, and the match was applied. An hour later they sat on the grass homeless and homeless, some of them naked and dumb in terror. There were tears and prayers and pleadings, but the order had gone forth.

By and by, as we rode up to a quaint old farmhouse, half hidden among the fruit trees, a rifle cracked and a trooper, shot through the head, fell off his horse. The black pillars of smoke dotting the valley had told the people what was coming. Here was one determined to protect his property—one man against company after company riding up and down and across. Ten minutes later the barn and the stacks were on fire and men under cover were keeping up a hot fire on the rifle pit. Just as another squad, attracted by the firing, came up a second man was hit and grievously wounded.

There was no more firing from the pit. Some of the scores of bullets fired into it must have found a target. There was a rush from all sides and the pit was captured. Fifty men had captured one. And that one? It was a lad not a day over fourteen, and one of our carbine bullets had taken his life. And when we laid him on the grass and saw that he had come home wounded from some battle up the valley—when the mother came out to us from the house and fell on her knees and wailed and sobbed—when an old white haired grandfather stood in the door, helpless to come out and look into our faces, but wailing out as if the sight of the dead boy was breaking his heart, what could we say? Nothing! What could we do? Only ride away and bemoan the cruelties of war!

He Couldn't Understand.

Bob had had a strenuous day at school. In discussing it he said: "Mother, why don't women have any use for men when they're little? Don't they know they'll grow up some day?"

Medical Advertising BRONCHITIS SUFFERER

Cured by a Simple Remedy.
Columbus, Ga. "I am telling everybody what Vinol has done for my husband. He had a bronchial cough, his system was run-down and I felt sure he would die. His father insisted on his trying Vinol, and I am so thankful he did, because it cured his cough and built him up. My doctor highly recommends it and said he could not take anything better." Mrs. Thomas Monk.

Vinol, you know, contains the real old liver curative, extract, together with peptonate of iron, and beef-pep-one, it enriches and revitalizes the blood and conveys to the system the vital elements necessary to strengthen the body and throw off the disease. That is the reason it was so successful in Mr. Monk's case.

Anyone in Gettysburg who has bronchitis, a chronic cough, or needs building up, may try a bottle of Vinol, with the understanding that his money will be returned if he is not satisfied. C. Wm. Beales, Prop., The People's Drug Store.

EXPECT SALE OF LIGHT COMPANY

Scranton Concern, it is said, will supply Gettysburg with electricity from Hanover Plant. Deal now pending.

Negotiations which have been on foot for some months by the United Service Company, of Scranton, for the purchase of the Gettysburg Light Company are nearing a head, according to current report. It is said that the former concern has an option on the plant and equipment here, and that details looking toward the final sale have all been arranged after various conferences with those who control the Gettysburg company.

The United Service Company operates light plants in a number of Ohio towns and cities and also throughout Pennsylvania. Among the towns in this state which they supply with light is Hanover, and it is said, by those in a position to know, that if they buy the Gettysburg concern they will discontinue operation of the plant at the corner of North Washington and Railroad streets, and supply the town from their Hanover power house.

It would be the idea to build a pole line the entire way here, and by operating from the Hanover plant save a great deal in the cost of supplying the current. It is also suggested that the farms along the line could be supplied from this same line and the nearby towns and villages could get the service at a reasonable rate.

The negotiations for the purchase of the Gettysburg Light Company have been under way for the better part of a year. There were a number of matters which had to be adjusted before everything would be ready for the consummation of the sale and it is said all these have now been arranged. No announcement is made from the local offices but it is expected that something definite will come from either Scranton or Philadelphia within a short time.

The Gettysburg Railway Company is not concerned in the present deal.

MANY APPLY FOR PRINCIPALSHIP

Numerous Applications Received for Head of Gettysburg Schools. Position Likely to be Filled in April.

Gettysburg's school principalship must have a fine reputation among educators in this portion of the State, for the board of education has on hand a long list of applicants for the position recently made vacant by the death of Supervising Principal W. A. Burgoon.

Included in this number are several school teachers who are well known locally as persons of exceptional ability and who have attained no small degree of success in the places where they have been located, so that there should be no difficulty in securing some one who will be eminently qualified and thoroughly acceptable to patrons and pupils.

The list includes several women but most of the applicants are men and it is the belief that a man will be chosen to fill Prof. Burgoon's place. While the present arrangement, with Miss Cope at the head of the schools, will continue to the end of this term it is not believed that the board of education will wait until June to elect a supervising principal for next year, and the plan now provides for the holding of the election in April.

In the meantime members of the school board will have ample opportunity to investigate the claims of the applicants and to find out everything about their qualifications.

The duties of the supervising principal are of great importance to the welfare of the schools, including, as they do, not simply teaching in the high school but a general oversight of all the grades. During Prof. Burgoon's incumbency these duties were much increased and he made an effort to visit all of the rooms periodically so that he taught only a few classes. The extension of the courses and the adding of many new studies have made the requirements for a person to fill the local principalship much more general than has ever before been the case.

ORGANIZE FOR TIMES OF STRESS

Want Gettysburg Women and those in County Towns to Join in Movement for Preparedness. The Plans.

Gettysburg women have been asked to organize a local branch of the Pennsylvania Women's Division for National Preparedness, to be ready for work in those lines in which they can aid most effectively in case of any State calamity such as war, fire, famine, floods, and so on. Chambersburg and York women have formed such organizations and it was felt that Gettysburg, through sentiment on account of its historical associations, if for no other reason, should take an interest in the movement.

Mrs. George W. Childs Drexel, of Philadelphia, chairman of the State Organization, desires greatly to have Gettysburg women and women of the nearby towns enrolled in the work. All over fifteen years of age are eligible to membership. An organizer will be sent here in the event that the women so desire and the matter will then be fully explained.

Mrs. Walter H. O'Neal, while in Philadelphia recently, attended several meetings, by request, and will give whatever information she can to any one calling at her home. Mrs. Drexel expressed to her a special desire for a branch here, the other county seats of the southern tier counties all taking to the plan, and Adams County being the only link that is missing.

In conversation with a number of women of the town it was brought out that all would be willing to help in the event of necessity arising, but there appears to be little enthusiasm for the "Preparedness" movement until the actual need arrives. In answer to this it is pointed out that the plan, after organization, is to have physicians make addresses before the body on first-aid measures, and that ultimately it is proposed to have the new organization become affiliated with the American Red Cross Society where its influence and help would be a great benefit.

If sufficient interest is shown, following this announcement, a local branch will be formed, under the personal direction of a representative of the Pennsylvania Division.

SUICIDE PACT OR JEALOUSY

Youth Shoots Girl and then Kills himself in Hanover Home. His Victim Expected to Recover though Very Ill.

Edna Hoffman, 16 years old, is seriously ill at a York hospital, with a bullet wound in her head, and Earl Miller, her 18 year old sweetheart, is dead at his home in Hanover, as the result of what the police say was a quarrel or suicide pact between the young couple. The police are convinced, however, that the young man fired the shots.

The shooting occurred in Hanover at the home of the girl shortly after Saturday midnight. Levi Hoffman, the girl's father, was awakened by three shots in rapid succession. He rushed down stairs but found the parlor door locked. Neighbors, likewise attracted by the noise, gathered about the house, and with the assistance of Mrs. Harry Marshall and Paul Wander, the father forced the door.

Lying on the floor were the young couple, both unconscious. Blood was streaming from the girl's temple, while the young man's upturned face showed he was past aid. In his hand he grasped the revolver. Miller died within an hour.

The girl was rushed to a hospital in York, where an examination showed the bullet lodged near the base of the brain. The physicians say there is some likelihood of her recovery. She remained unconscious, but refused to give any information regarding the shooting. When questioned as to Miller's motive for committing the act, she merely shook her head. News of young Miller's death was withheld from her.

Both the girl and the young man are members of highly respected families. According to the dead youth's mother, Mrs. Eliza Miller, her son had never been in the habit of staying out late at night, and his failure to return home as usual Saturday night caused her much uneasiness. She thought that, perhaps, he had met with an accident of some kind. She said that Earl frequently went armed, but that Saturday evening she had opened his bureau and found his revolver. It is evident that he either purchased the other weapon, after leaving home or obtained it from a friend.

It is believed by friends of the young people that jealousy was indirectly the cause of the tragedy. During the past month several anonymous letters had been received by Miller casting reflections on his sweetheart. One of these letters was found among the youth's possessions. Miller's sister says that upon one occasion the young man showed her a note of this character, remarking: "Somebody will suffer for this."

Pneumonia and Other Forms of Sickness Prove Fatal to County Residents. Five Had Passed Age of Seventy.

JOHN B. KUNTZ

John B. Kuntz died at noon Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward Murray, Goodyear, after an illness of several weeks from a complication of diseases, aged 76 years, 11 months, and 11 days.

Mr. Kuntz was a veteran of the Civil War serving as corporal in Pat-tery G, 1st regiment, Pennsylvania artillery. He was honorably discharged after the second battle of Bull Run, in which engagement he lost his right hand. For many years he resided in Cumberland County where he served a term as a county commissioner.

He leaves two sons, Elmer E. Kuntz, Lansford, and Grover C. Kuntz, Philadelphia, and three daughters, Mrs. Harry Beam, Mrs. Edward Murray, and Mrs. Park Gardner, all of Goodyear. He also leaves three brothers and one sister, Philip Kuntz, Mt. Holly; George and Conrad Kuntz, Hunters Run, and Mrs. John Davis, Carlisle.

Funeral Wednesday morning, meeting at the home of Mrs. Murray at 9:30. Further services and interment at Mt. Zion Lutheran church, Goodyear, conducted by Rev. Mr. Becker.

MRS. BENJ. F. KEPNER

After a ten days illness from pneumonia Mrs. Lovina M. Kepner, wife of Benjamin F. Kepner, died at her home in Highland township, Sunday morning, aged 78 years and 21 days.

Mrs. Kepner was a daughter of the late Marks Forney, of near Gettysburg. Her first husband was a Mr. Keckler. She leaves her second husband and two children, Mrs. Joan Aughinbaugh, Highland township; and Elmer Kepner. She also leaves one brother, Marks Forney, Harrisburg. She was a member of St. James Lutheran church.

Funeral Tuesday afternoon, meeting at the house at one o'clock. Rev. J. B. Baker, conducting the services. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

MISS LOUISA WOLF

Miss Louisa Wolf, aged eighty two years, died at her residence in Abbotstown Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, from a complication of diseases. For many years she had been living at that place and was well known.

She was a member of the Reformed church.

She leaves one sister, Mrs. Emma McClure, York, and one brother, George Wolf, of Abbotstown.

Funeral from her home, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Services in the Reformed church, at Abbotstown, by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Garrett, of New Oxford. Interment in the cemetery adjacent to the church.

MRS. ELIZABETH YOUNG

Mrs. Elizabeth K. Young, 73 years old, died about 11:15 o'clock Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Adam Hoffman, in York. She leaves the following children: Mrs. Wilson Strausbaugh, Mrs. Adam Hoffman, and Daniel Young, York; and George Young, New Chester. She also leaves one brother, Samuel Sowers, East Berlin.

The funeral was held this morning. The body was taken to Mummet's church, near East Berlin, where services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Long, pastor of the First Church of the Brethren, York. Interment in the graveyard adjoining the church edifice.

MRS. DEATRICK

Mrs. Katharine Deatricks died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Keefe, at Table Rock, at 6:00 o'clock Sunday morning, from infirmities, aged 87 years.

She leaves the following children, Mrs. John Keefe, of Table Rock; Mrs. James Roth, of Heidersburg; Edward Pensyl, of Iowa.

Funeral Tuesday, meeting at the house at 12:00 o'clock. Services and interment at Bender's church, Riv. C. F. Floto officiating.

BULGARS WANT SEPARATE PEACE

Proposals Are Offered to the Entente Allies.

QUARREL ONLY WITH SERBIA

Declared When She Entered War That Participation Would be Confined to Conquering King Peter.

London, Feb. 14.—Bulgaria has made overtures to the entente powers for a separate peace, the Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company states in a despatch.

Previous reports of Bulgaria's willingness to discuss peace terms are confirmed in entente circles in Greece, the despatch adds.

That Bulgaria should seek peace now is not altogether surprising to the entente powers, for it was definitely announced in her behalf when she entered the war that her participation would be confined to the campaign in Serbia and that once Serbia was conquered Bulgaria would take no further active interest in the war.

Bulgaria entered the European struggle on October 14 last by declaring war on Serbia and following up the declaration with a swift advance over the Serbian frontier on Nish, the temporary capital of King Peter.

Bulgaria's entrance into the war marked the failure of diplomatic efforts on the part of the entente allies to draw her into the conflict against Germany, or at least to insure her neutrality. Bulgaria, however, after seeming to lean first to one side and then to the other, and always preparing for hostilities, finally rejected the offers of the entente powers, and five days after the occupation of Belgrade by the big Austro-German army under Field Marshal von Mackensen she took up arms against Serbia.

At that Bulgarian statesmen announced that the quarrel of Bulgaria was with Serbia, and not with the other members of the entente. The principal question of dispute was the Macedonian territory occupied by the Serbs and Greeks after the second Balkan war, in which Bulgaria was robbed of the fruits of her victories over the Turks in the first Balkan war.

Bulgaria brought to the aid of the Teutonic Balkan campaign a force of veteran soldiers estimated at about 350,000 men.

When the Austrian invasion of Serbia started the great European conflict, Bulgaria, apparently looking forward to the time when she would join the Teutonic nations, mobilized her forces and made every preparation for war, so that when more than a year later she finally entered the conflict her army was thoroughly equipped and for the most part was officered by Germans detailed from Berlin.

ROBBER KILLS AGED COUPLE

Young Negro Confesses Double Murder on New Jersey Farm.

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 14.—His head crushed with an ax, the body of Richard J. Wyckoff, a wealthy East Amwell township farmer, eighty years old, and a cripple was found in a pool of blood upon the kitchen floor of his home near Wertsville.

A few hours later the body of his housekeeper, Miss Catharine Ann Fisher, seventy-five years old, was discovered beneath a pile of straw in the barn. Both had been brutally hacked to death.

James Hoagland, eighteen years old, a negro, was placed in the county jail on a charge of the murders, after he had weakened under the "third degree" treatment, and confessed that he killed Wyckoff and Miss Fisher because he wanted money.

Digging for Gold in Maryland.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Sixteen miles from the capital within sight of the Washington monument, operations have been undertaken on a large scale for gold. On the old Ford farm in Montgomery county, Md., two or three miles from the Potomac river, diamond drills are at work probing for quartz veins carrying the precious metals. Nuggets have already been found, but whether ore exists in paying quantities is not yet determined.

Estimates U. S. Population 101,208,315.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The census bureau estimates the population of the United States on January 1 was 101,208,315, and that on July 1 next it will be 102,017,312. The estimated population of the United States on July 1, 1915, according to the bureau, was 100,399,318.

Lightning Strikes Ship.

New York, Feb. 14.—The British steamship Dunclutha, which arrived from Manchester, England, reported that she was struck by lightning during a storm on January 19. The bolt shattered the foretopmast and the officers at first thought the ship had struck a mine.

OUST KITCHIN, SAYS CLARK, IS NONSENSE

Speaker Declares Floor Leader Has Right to Opinion.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Speaker Clark issued a statement characterizing as nonsense talk of ousting Representative Kitchin from the house majority leadership because of his opposition to the preparedness program and other administration plans.

He said he expected to leave the speaker's chair whenever he felt it necessary to oppose or support any measure, but would do so without any intent to supplant Representative Kitchin or any other committee chairman or leader.

"It's a pity," said the speaker, "that all Democrats do not agree about all things, but Mr. Kitchin has as much right to his opinion as the president has to his or I have to mine. I have faith that by the exercise of forbearance, moderation and wisdom we will evolve plans for preparedness and other great questions such as raising revenue on which we can all stand. That's my hope and expectation."

"No man can build a proposition through the house by main strength. The entire philosophy of success in that able and tumultuous assembly is to take things by the smooth handle, to rub the hair the right way of the hide and to confer freely with members, persuading rather than attempting to drive, yielding in non-essentials firm as a rock on fundamentals."

FEAR FOR FRENCH WARSHIP

Admiral Charner Believed Torpedoed Off Syrian Coast.

Paris, Feb. 14.—The admiralty issued the following statement: "The minister of marine is concerned with regard to the French cruiser Admiral Charner, of 4000 tons, which was cruising off the coast of Syria and has not been heard from since February 8, on which date, according to a telegram a German submarine had sunk a French warship."

This is the first time that the presence of German submarines off the Syrian coast has been officially confirmed.

GERMAN GUNBOAT SUNK

Naval Battle Fought on Lake in East Africa.

Havre, Feb. 14.—The Belgian war office issued the following statement: "The German gunboat Hedwig von Wissman was sunk in Lake Tanganyika. Two officers and nineteen sailors were taken prisoners. The Belgian and British flotillas suffered no loss."

Lake Tanganyika forms the western border of German East Africa.

Zeppelin Blown Over North Sea.

London, Feb. 14.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphed: "The Zeppelin L-29 was sighted off the west coast of Denmark near Esbjerg opposite the island of France. It tried to steer to the southward, but was unable to do so, and a strong wind drove it over the North sea. It is stated that its engines were working irregularly."

Cleveland Baptists Raise $500,000.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 14.—Cleveland Baptists announced they have completed their campaign for $500,000 for permanent relief for aged pastors, begun May, 1915. It is the first block of $2,000,000 to be raised in the United States.

Rotterdam, Feb. 14.—The British authorities at Falmouth took from the steamer Celina, bound to South America, the entire mail for South American countries.

RUSSIANS GAIN ON THREE FRONTS

Foe is on the Defensive on Important Rivers.

AGAIN THREATEN CZERNOWITZ

Activities of Czar's Forces Prevents the Kaiser From Withdrawing Men for Attack Elsewhere.

London, Feb. 14.—The Russian offensive is gathering enormous momentum along the Galician front, according to despatches from Petrograd, and the Germans are now on the defensive on three important rivers—the Sereth, the Pruth, and the Dniester.

The Russian advance east of Rance and the crossing of the Dniester at Uscieozko, where the czar's forces are strongly entrenched, again seriously threatens the capture of Czernowitz, capital of Bukovina.

The Russian foothold at Uscieozko has also had the effect of interrupting one of the important lines of communication between the two German armies under the command of Generals Pfanner and von Bothmer.

Near Zaleszczyk a third important Russian advance has been recorded. A fierce counter attack is declared to have been successful in routing the opposing forces and demoralizing the Hungarian troops to such an extent that they retired to a new line four miles to the rear. In addition to these breaches announced to have been made in the opposing lines, the Russians have been active immediately to the northward of Tarnopol, where they have moved forward slightly.

While it is admitted these operations have no immediate strategic value, it is believed in military circles that the new Russian offensive has prevented the Germans from withdrawing troops from this front, thereby lessening the chances of successful attacks on allied lines elsewhere.

The initiative, on the Dvinsk front remains in German hands, but the mild weather of the last month threatening with inundation the trenches built by the German or marshy ground is seriously handicapping their effort to move forward. Prisoners report that a great number of French prisoners are employed in the construction of drainage works.

SAILOR ROUSES PATRIOTISM

Stands at "Attention" When National Anthem is Played.

Yonkers, N. Y., Feb. 14.—A sailor from the U. S. cruiser Washington aroused a large audience to his patriotism here when the national anthem was played.

In full naval costume he arose from his seat and stood at attention as the anthem sounded throughout the theatre.

There were cries of "sit down," mingled with clapping of hands and stamping of feet. A few hisses greeted the sailor as he started to address the audience. He said:

"Ladies and gentlemen: Every enlisted man of the United States army and navy must stand at attention when the national anthem is played. Don't be blockheads by sitting down clapping your hands and stamping your feet."

Applause followed this remark. The sailor refused to make his identity known.

CANADA DRIVES PLANT HERE

Asbestos Works to be Established at Conshohocken.

Conshohocken, Pa., Feb. 14.—It became known that the offer to purchase for $60,000 the plant of the Longhead Iron company here came from the Keasbey & Mattison company, of Ambler, or a subsidiary, the Abestone company, of which Dr. R. V. Mattison is president.

The deal has been consummated and the new company will begin operations as soon as machinery can be removed from Montreal, Can., where it is at present located. The company manufactures asbestos.

Big Guns Frighten Cape May.

Cape May, N. J., Feb. 14.—Residents near Sunny Hill Corner, two miles north of this city, have become alarmed at the manner in which the gunners of the Bethlehem Steel company at Townbank have been firing the big guns in the tests of shells for the allies that they have awarded a contract for a cement wall thirty feet high and two hundred feet long to protect the roadway in the range of the guns.

Fatally Shot by Boy of Six.

Mahaboy City, Pa., Feb. 14.—As John Redcliff, aged thirty-five, stood drinking at the bar in Tony Tunnella's saloon after finishing his day's work at the mines, he was fatally shot by William Tunnella, the six-year-old son of the proprietor, who accidentally discharged his father's rifle. The bullet entered Redcliff's temple.

Hurt as B. & O. Trains Collide.

Newark, Del., Feb. 14.—Six persons were slightly hurt when a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train crashed into the rear end of a Wells-Fargo express. The accident happened at Berksdale, just west of this place. Slippery rails and snow flurries are supposed to have caused the collision.

SENATOR HENRY F. LIPPITT

GRAHAME WHITE GRAVELY WOUNDED

Daring Allied Aviator Meets With Injury.

Hazebrouck, France, Feb. 14.—Claude Grahame-White, the British aviator, has been wounded gravely. No details have been obtained. He was commissioned a lieutenant last month.

Lieutenant Grahame-White, one of the best-known aviators, won international prominence several years ago by his spectacular flights in England and America. He enlisted in the naval corps at the outbreak of the war and was appointed temporary flight commander. A year ago he had a narrow escape from death. After participating in a raid by a squadron of aeroplanes on Belgian towns he fell into the sea, but was picked up by a cruiser.

Lieutenant Grahame-White's wife, formerly Miss Dorothy Taylor, of New York, obtained last month a decree for the restitution of her conjugal rights, an action which in England is a preliminary step to a suit for divorce.

MAN FLAMING TORCH

Motorcyclist, Saturated With Gasoline, Ignited by Hot Stove.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 14.—Edward Barlow, aged twenty-six years, was perhaps fatally burned, as the result of a peculiar accident.

He was riding a motorcycle at Front and Union streets when the machine skidded and upset.

The gasoline tank was broken and the fluid saturated Barlow's clothing. He went to a garage at Front and Du pont streets to get warm and while standing close to a hot stove the gasoline was ignited. The next instant he was enveloped in flames and was burned all over before he could remove his clothing. He is at the Delaware hospital.

RIVET SEARS HIS BACK

Unique Mishap With Red-Hot Missile in Mill.

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 14.—One of the red-hot rivets which were being thrown from the furnace to Charles N. McCarl, a shop hand in the Pennsylvania shops here, struck the rim of the bucket as he was catching them, bounded and dropped down the back of his neck, burning a scarred path from hair to hip.

The rivet burned its way out through his trousers, or it might have left a streak from head to foot.

Grain Warehouse at Loysville Burns.

Marysville, Pa., Feb. 14.—A large grain warehouse at Loysville, belonging to J. B. Lightner, was burned to the ground with about 3000 bushels of grain. The loss will approximate $6000.

Earl Grey's Son-in-Law Wounded.

London, Feb. 14.—Major Arthur Morton Grenfell, of the Ninth Lancers, has been wounded in France. Major Grenfell is a son-in-law of Earl Grey, former governor general of Canada.

TO FEED BASS

Portsmen should see that fish have enough to eat.

Local bass fishermen will be much interested in a bulletin issued by the Fish Commission. It is a bulletin which he calls attention to the necessity of stocking the streams with minnows and other small fish, which are the natural food of bass and other large fish. To illustrate the necessity of minnow life in bass streams, Commissioner Buller says:

"Four years ago the Pennsylvania Department of Fishery commenced observations of a stream that was stocked with bass. The absence of minnow life in this stream was very noticeable the first year, and in a distance of a quarter of a mile there were observed 150 bass nests of eggs. Very few yearling bass could be seen.

"During the first year" the stream was heavily stocked by the department with minnows. This year, after continued stocking with minnows, more than 1,500 bass nests were located in the stream, where four years ago there were only 150 bass nests, and the stream contained bass of all sizes.

"This illustration only shows that the bass are not liable to prey upon one another if the natural food supply is in the stream. It also shows that a stream was not so much in need of bass as it was natural food supply. The department cannot argue too strongly that the fishermen supply the stream with minnows already in the stream, and they will get better results by doing so, better results than by obtaining and better bass. Common bass prevail throughout the streams in the present localities."

CHANGING IN WORK

Indian School Children Made Uniform with Other Institutions.

A new course of educational study was this month introduced at the Carlisle Indian School. One of the chief virtues of the new plan, that it establishes uniformity of training in all schools in the Indian service, so that when, for any reason, a pupil is transferred from one school to another, the officials of the school to which he is transferred know exactly where he stands. It is a plan that will do much work for the Indian service, and it is a plan that will do much work for the Indian service.

My sister had brought home an unsatisfactory report card, and mother scolded her a good deal for it. We were called to lunch just then, and having a new maid, this was our first taste of her baked beans. My sister took a few mouthfuls, which were rather too sweet with molasses, and looking up at mother, said: "If that maid of ours got a report card, I can tell you she'd get 'poor' in beans."—Exchange.

Anger is an emotion, and all emotions should be subjected to the will. It is a thing that is done down by the power of your will. Admittedly there are many things that cause anger—justifiable anger. Yet, now that you know the scientific truth that anger is a killer of men, and that every time you get into a blazing rage you are pecking back the tale of your years, is it worth while to get angry?

LOOKING FOR WORK

Everywhere men complain about work; even boys and girls in school for business find work tedious and irksome, but it isn't the work itself so much as their own lack of physical strength that makes it hard.

Rich blood, strong lungs and healthy digestion make work pleasurable in business, in school or even housework, and if those who are easily tired—who are not sick, but weak and nervous—would just take Scott's Emulsion for one month and let its pure concentrated food create richer blood to pulsate through every artery and vein—let it build a structure of healthy tissue and give you vigorous strength—you would find work easy and would look for more. Insist on Scott's.

Bearded Freak.

One of the earliest of the American bearded freaks was Louis Jasper, who lived in southern Virginia at about the time of the close of the Revolutionary war. His beard was nine and a half feet long and correspondingly thick and heavy. He could take his mustache between his fingers and extend his arms to their full length and still the ends of the mustache were over a foot beyond his finger tips.—Exchange.

Theory and Practice.

In theory you perhaps might attempt to pass through a pack of ravening hyenas with a fatuous smile on your countenance, a dove on your shoulder, love for every living creature in your heart and an olive branch in your hand. But in practice would it not be a heap smarter in you to tote a broad-ax?—Kansas City Star.

Card Playing Once Under Ban.

In Germany card playing had made great headway by 1400. Burgher's books of the fifteenth century contain municipal prohibition of card playing. It is recounted that in 1452 a Franciscan friar preached in Nuremberg against gaming, with the result that a penitent populace burned in the market place great quantities of playing cards, along with other devices of devils.

Novel Eskimo Belief.

The Eskimos have an original superstition. They say that one day Aniga, the moon, chased his sister, the sun, in wrath. Just as he was about to catch her, however, she turned round and threw a great handful of soot in his face, and thus escaped him; and of that soot he bears the traces to this day.

CROSS AND NERVOUS

Gettysburg Sufferers from Kidney Troubles Often Become Very Irritable.

Cross irritable people—the sort who fuss and mope and worry over trifles—are not always to blame for the annoyance they give to others. Frequently these traits are but the effects of kidney poisons on brain and nerves. Uric acid that escapes the kidneys, irritates nerve centers and vital organs—is likely to cause back-ache, rheumatism and neuralgic pains—keep you languid, all tired out, or lead to Bright's disease, gravel or dropsy. Stop the trouble in the beginning. Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended by your friends and neighbors in Gettysburg.

Mrs. N. L. Wierman, 135 York St. Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I suffered a great deal from backache and I often had nervous spells. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a supply at the People's Drug Store and commenced their use. The backache was relieved and my entire system was benefited. I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and advise other kidney sufferers to give them a trial."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wierman had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo N. Y.

ALL DEMOCRATS FOLLOW WILSON

Lauded For Manner In Which They Take Their Medicine.

SOME OPPOSE THE PROGRAM

But For Party Harmony They Keep Quiet and Obey Orders, Showing That There Are Some Good Disciplinarians In Their Ranks--Marshall Almost Sure to Be on Ticket.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Feb. 14. [Special.]—The Democrats are to be commended for the manner in which they are taking their medicine and doing the things they do not like because they are told to support the president.

Of course it is well known that a large number of the Democrats in both houses do not agree with the president's plan for preparedness and would like to vote against it, but they are well disciplined—they obey orders. The Democrats of the senate do not like to confirm Brandeis for associate justice of the supreme court, but they are going to do it.

Democrats in both houses are sore over postal conditions, but they are going to try to enact the postal legislation which the postmaster general has requested. And so it goes down the line.

Must Take Marshall. Left to a vote of the senate only a few Democratic senators would want Tom Marshall for a second term in the vice president's chair, but it is said that a hint has gone forth from the White House that Marshall is to be re-nominated. The president thinks that the old ticket will be about the right combination.

More especially is this true since he has learned something about the situation in Indiana, which convinces him that to throw Marshall over at this time would be most unsatisfactory to the Hoosiers. There are a lot of Democrats in Indiana who do not share the aversion which some of the Democratic leaders in other parts of the country seem to feel for Marshall. It is a good guess that the old ticket will be nominated at St. Louis.

Ignition Not Failure. Champ Clark radically differs with those who say the federal irrigation law is a failure. "I am one of the men that got up that irrigation scheme," the speaker told the house. "I was not prominent in it, for I was a new member and green. It took years to get it. A man who took part in that irrigation scheme cannot ride from here to the Pacific coast over any great railroad route without enjoying that he participated in that beneficent work."

The speaker believes that overflooded and swamp lands can be reclaimed in much the same manner as that which the government has adopted in regard to irrigation.

Bennet's Guest. During the congregation of the Indian bill the house was reminded that there are New York Indians. Congressman Bennett had some idea about them, but was speaking particularly of a tribe in Oklahoma.

"Suppose," asked Slayden of Texas, "these Indians move again, will we have to keep following them?" "Before that times comes," respond of Bennett, "the gentleman from Texas as well as the senate and I will be in private life. I would not worry about that."

Not at This Time. Senator Clapp introduced and the committee has reported a number of bills which would greatly curtail the political activity of men in public life. One is for the publication of campaign expenses; another makes it unlawful for a member of congress to solicit campaign funds and prohibits a member of congress from serving on a campaign committee, and another limits the amount to be contributed to a presidential campaign. These are all retrofitted bills, but although they have been favorably considered by the committee, it is doubtful whether they will become laws before the coming election.

Not Kitchin's Cue. There were a discussion in one day relating to preparedness under discussion in the house, and yet the leader of the house took no part in the proceedings. Leader Kitchin did not seem to think it was his cue. In fact, the probabilities are that he will not go much further than to make one general speech against the preparedness program and let his opposition rest.

Education Versus Roads. There was a discussion in the senate about land grants to states for schools and roads. Mark Smith of Arizona broke in, saying:

"I would rather have an educated man walking through mud than an uneducated man riding in an automobile."

Must Have Been Fierce. During recent ceremonies in the old hall of the house of representatives the men who strained their ears with the villainous accusations of that hall wondered how the representatives were ever able to transact business. That hall has the record of being the worst public place for speakers that ever existed.

Sawed-Off Sermon. The average girl is more courageous than a pugilist. She is usually ready to make a match with a man twice her size—Indianapolis Star.

Medical Advertising SAGE TEA PUTS LIFE AND COLOR IN HAIR

Don't Stay Gray. It Darkens So Naturally That Nobody can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance.

Good Advice From Pa.

"Pa. what is meant by overtime pay?" "Overtime pay, my boy, is the reward for doing a little extra labor, and there are two kinds." "That so?" "What are they?" "Well, some men insist on collecting their overtime weekly and at a specified rate; and others are willing to work overtime and take their reward in a successful future." —Detroit Free Press.

Man's Heaviest Burden.

It is what a man has to do for a living that palls on him. If it were to become the custom for ball teams to pay rooters, it would not be long before there would be a rooters' union that would demand a reduction of innings, more wages and a limit of ends per capita between innings. —Houston Post.

WIFE NO. 2 ARRESTS ALLEGED BIGAMIST

She Traces Him to Other Alliances.

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 14.—Charged with bigamy, John P. Jenkins, said to be a member of a prominent Scranton family, was arrested here by Constable William F. Fink, who alleges that Jenkins not only has two wives, but that he was making conquest of two or three other young women in Allentown.

Jenkins is held under bail for a hearing. He was employed at the Bethlehem Steel Works, and is described as a good looking, Constable Fink, who is investigating, says a third wife may turn up.

His alleged infatuation for Miss Mae Reese, a former school teacher at Delaware Water Gap, now a saleswoman in a local department store, was Jenkins' undoing. They were sweethearts at Scranton in their childhood days; but Jenkins married Miss Fille Hancock, of Scranton, in 1909. Two years later the pair separated, and Mrs. Jenkins No. 1 is now said to be living at Jackson, Mich., no divorce having been granted.

Within the past year Jenkins is alleged to have renewed his acquaintance with Miss Reese, and, according to the Northampton county records, they were married at Easton, December 15, 1935. In their efforts to keep their marriage secret the pair boarded at separate places.

During the past week wife No. 2 suspected that all was not right, and upon investigation found, according to her story, that Jenkins was living with another woman, who, he told his boarding house mistress, was his wife. Mrs. Jenkins No. 2 thereupon revealed the whole story, and Jenkins' arrest followed.

STEEL CARS SHIFT SHOPS

Schuylkill Haven Can Only Repair Wooden Coaches.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 14.—David F. Runkle, foreman of the Schuylkill Haven repair shops of the Reading railway, has been appointed superintendent of the St. Clair shops.

The million-dollar yards of the Reading railway are located at St. Clair, and recently the Palo Alto shops were removed there.

Superintendent W. H. Keffer stated that no orders for the abandonment of the Schuylkill Haven shops had been issued, but they are only equipped to repair wooden cars, and these are becoming very scarce.

In addition to Runkle, several assistant foremen are to be transferred from Schuylkill Haven to St. Clair. Of the 400 employees at Schuylkill Haven it is believed eighty will be retained to repair the Pine Hill branch cars.

Golden Rule Under Arrest.

Philadelphia, Feb. 14.—Charged with desertion and non-support, Golden Rule, thirty-five years old, a printer of Washington, was arrested and arraigned in Central station for a hearing. The accusations were preferred by Mrs. Elizabeth Rule, who alleges her husband deserted her and her two children, Violet Rule, thirteen years old, and India Rule, thirteen years old, last January. Rule will be sent back to Washington.

Princeton to Have Military Course.

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 14.—A course of military science for Princeton university will be inaugurated by an address by Henry C. Breckinridge, former assistant secretary of war. The course is to consist of weekly lectures in connection with tactical excursions under the direction of regular army officers. Rifle practice is to be held, but no drill, and the work is to be entirely optional.

Uncle Sam Kicks on Rent Rise.

Mount Holly, N. J., Feb. 14.—Postal authorities have posted notices asking for a new location for the local postoffice. The location and appointments of the present quarters are ideal and understood to be satisfactory to the government, but the owners are said to have proposed a substantial increase in the rental.

Paper Mill and Braid Works Burn.

Williamsport, Pa., Feb. 14.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the plants of the Williamsport Paper company and the Royal Braid works, causing a loss of $75,000.

FREED OF DAUGHTER'S DEATH

Jury Acquits Former Harrisburg Policeman Accused of Beating Girl.

Harrisburg, Feb. 14.—After deliberating for eight hours, a Dauphin county jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" for William H. Shuman, former policeman, charged with the murder of his daughter, Margaret Shuman, on September 30.

Shuman was alleged to have kicked and beaten his daughter, while in a drunken rage, inflicting injuries which later caused her death. Physicians called as witnesses for the defense declared that diphtheria and not the father's mistreatment, caused her death.

Shuman declared, on hearing the verdict, "I have been a wicked man, but there has not been a night since I have been in jail that I have not prayed and God has answered my prayers, for he knew I was innocent."

YOUNG FOLKS' CORNER

"Run, Sheep, Run."

The following game, which is "Run, sheep, run," is an interesting game if played right. It is best played out of doors. Two captains are chosen, who alternately choose players until all the players are divided equally. One side becomes a searching side and remains at the goal, while the other party goes out with its captain, who finds a hiding place.

While all are hidden the captain goes back to the searchers, who at once start out on their hunt under the direction of their captain. The captain of the hiding place remains with the searchers, calling out signals to his hidden men.

Neither party may run for the goal until its own captain shouts, "Run, sheep, run!" The following are the signals: Red, "Danger;" green, "Go around the house to the right;" blue, "Go around the house to the left;" purple, "Stand still;" yellow, "Keep on going in the same direction and go nearer the goal."

How to Play "Rabbit."

A game which can be played at any time and place is as follows:

The leader, who knows the game, asks each one in turn, "Do you know how to play rabbit?" When all have answered she says, "Do just what I do."

First.—All stand in a row.

Second.—All kneel down on one knee.

Third.—All place the first finger of the right hand on the floor.

When all the players are in the position and about losing their balance the leader, who is at the head of the line, pushes against the player next to her, thus knocking over the whole row. As they fall, amid laughter, she calmly announces, "That is the way to play 'rabbit'."

St. Bernard Dog a Hero.

Brown is a big St. Bernard dog of Boston, famous for his intelligence. It was his habit to go with the nurse when she wheeled the baby out for an airing. There was a high embankment with a steep incline going down at a sharp angle, and on one occasion the nurse, going in to pay a visit to some of her friends, left the carriage, with the baby in it, perilously near the dangerous spot. Something started the wheels in motion, and the carriage rolled down toward the dangerous edge. In a moment more it must have gone over, when Brown threw himself before the wheels and lay there, holding the carriage back by the weight of his body until the truant maid returned.

Approves Scout Movement.

At a banquet in Richmond, Va., a short time ago Bishop Dennis J. O'Connell said of the scout movement: "I am with and for the Boy Scouts of America. I think the boy scout movement is the best, most natural and most efficient step taken toward the development of character in the American boy that has come under my observation. The principles upon which this movement is founded tend to build up the boy's character. The principles that animate the movement are grand and noble. The boy scout spirit will last longer than the sun."

Scouts Should Keep Healthy.

A scout keeps himself healthy and strong. To be able to live up to the requirements of a scout a boy must be systematically taking exercise, playing games, running and walking. He must sleep enough hours to give him necessary strength and, if possible, sleep much in the open or at least with the windows of his bedroom open both summer and winter. He should take a cold bath often, rubbing dry with a rough towel. He should breathe through the nose and not through the mouth. He should at all times train himself to endure hardships.

"Deerstalking."

"Deerstalking" is a game in which only two players take part, but it is very exciting to watch. Both "deer" and "stalker" are blindfolded. They then are placed at opposite ends of a large table.

At a given moment they begin to move around it. The stalker's business, of course, is to catch the deer, and the deer's to avoid it. But neither must run out of the room. Absolute silence must be kept by the audience and players, and if felt slippers can be worn by the deer and its stalker, so much the better.

Profit in Sheep.

Show us another farm animal that will so quickly and effectively clean up all the odd crops of grazing and small bushes about the farm, kill out the weeds and add to the fertility of the soil as the sheep. These features are what lower the cost of wool and mutton on the farm.

Help Keep Them Clean.

It is an old custom in Bohemian bakeries to wipe the boots of visitors as they enter. There is a good deal of wiping these days; for the government and city officials inspect the bakeries at very frequent intervals in order to see that the regulations regarding the amount of flour used in bread are carried out.—Popular Science Monthly.

Didn't Want to See It.

The gentleman had just related to the lady an anecdote with a double entendre in it. And the lady, being such, did not smile. "Aha!" he said, in disappointed tones, "you prove that women have no sense of humor. You didn't see the point, did you?" "No," she answered, with dignity, "Not if it's what I saw."

Must Remain Unsolved.

The statement that "The Old Oaken Bucket" was inspired by a terrifically hot day can hardly be expected to arouse any weird gestures or loud screams of indignant denial, especially since the author, Samuel Woodworth, son of a Massachusetts farmer, was born in 1785 and can scarcely be in a position to state his views of the case.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL

Run-down, Weak and Nervous—
Made Strong by Vinol.

For the benefit of Gettysburg school girls who overwork and get into highly nervous, weak and run-down condition, we publish this letter from Dorris Conlier, of Fort Worth, Tex.:
"I go to the high school and take music lessons, and became run-down, weak and very nervous, so I could not do anything. I would shake all over and could have screamed at times, and was really unfit to keep on with my studies. Mother purchased a bottle of Vinol for me and within a week
I was better, and in two weeks I had gained five pounds and felt fine."

It is the curative strengthening elements of the true cod liver extract, aided by the blood-making, revitaliz-ing effect of pentonate of iron and beef peptone, contained in Vinol, which made it so successful in building up health and strength and overcoming the nervous condition of Miss Conlier, and we ask every school girl in Gettysburg who is in a like condition to try Vinol, on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit. C.

On Washington's Errand and His Own

By ETHEL HOLMES

One visiting the town of Dobbs Ferry on the east bank of the Hudson and some twenty miles from New York will find himself in a place that has been called by its present name for so long that no one, except perhaps some of the present residents, knows the date. Doubtless Mr. Dobbs ran a ferry there to some point across the Hudson. He has passed away long ago, but his name remains.

There is another name connected with Dobbs Ferry of far more importance—that is, George Washington. One mounding the debris leading up from the railway station and following the road leading southward will pass a frame house before which runs a wall to which is attached a tablet stating that it was the headquarters of General Washington during the Revolutionary war.

One day a country lad named Enoch Weatherly, who was a member of the Revolutionary army and had not seen his best girl in New York city for some time, got leave to go there for the purpose of meeting her. Being a patriotic youth, he went to General Washington and, telling him what he was about to do, asked the general if he could be of any service to him in bringing information of the British army, which was at that time in possession of the city.

The general told Enoch that he very much desired to know how many troops were there, how many cannon and whether any preparations were being made for a movement. Enoch promised to gain what information he could. That night the youngster put a load of farm produce in his boat on the river and the next morning started with the outgoing tide for New York. On reaching Spuyten Duyvil creek he turned into it and when he arrived at Kingsbridge, leaving his boat under the bridge, proceeded on foot to the city, some nine or ten miles away. There was a British soldier at the bridge, but Enoch, being loaded with produce, was suffered to pass, and whenever he was stopped on the way a few eggs or a pound of butter was sufficient to pass him.

New York was then all at the southern end of the island, and Enoch's girl, Becky Bleecker, lived at the lower end of Greenwich street, near where it joins the Battery. He found Becky, and she was delighted to see him. For there was little communication between the American troops in the region beyond Spuyten Duyvil creek and the city. Enoch while in New York was continually going about, counting the guns he saw and estimating the number of the soldiers.

One day he made bold to sketch a redoubt in the region that is now Central park and was observed doing so by a sentry. The soldier called the corporal of the guard and by him sent a message to the commanding officer that a man had been seen sketching the works. By this time Enoch had left, and a couple of men were sent to bring him back. Enoch soon discovered that he was being pursued, and though the men most of the time kept him in sight, he succeeded in reaching Becky Bleecker's home without being arrested.

Becky put him into the great hall clock, he handing her the memoranda he had accumulated, giving her a kiss at the same time, and she had no sooner taken them than there was a loud rap at the door. She opened it, and two redcoats entered, inquiring for the young fellow who had just come in. Becky declared that they must be mistaken, but the soldiers, having seen him close the door behind him, searched the house. Not thinking to look in the clock, they did not find him. But one man stationed himself at the front of the house, the other at the rear, and Enoch was pinned in.

After they had gone outside Becky returned to Enoch, and he bemoaned the fact that he would not be permitted to take his notes to General Washington. Becky was in terror lest the information he proposed to take away should be captured on him and cause his conviction as a spy. Something must be done before any one came from General Howe and while there were only green soldiers on guard.

Becky resolved to walk out with Enoch's notes and drawings in face of the sentinels at the front door. She did so, and the man essayed to stop her, but she gave him a scornful look and proceeded. She had scarcely got out of sight before a member of the staff came with a sergeant and eight men and gave orders that no one should be permitted to leave the house. Enoch had heard the door shut after Becky and thought it best to come out of hiding. But, since there was nothing found to indicate that he was a spy, after being held for some time he was suffered to go his way.

Meanwhile Becky, presuming that her lover would not be permitted to go back to General Washington, made her way to Kingsbridge, where she found Enoch's boat and pulled herself up to Dobbs Ferry. Mounding the hill to the house where Washington was quartered, she told him the story of Enoch's and her adventures and handed him the memoranda Enoch had collected.

"When Enoch Weatherly returns, if he does," said the general, "come together to see me."

Enoch returned sooner than was expected, and when the lovers called on the general he directed his chaplain to marry them and bestowed upon them a handsome wedding present.
